School Parent Involvement Policy Requirements

A-1. What is parent involvement under No Child Left Behind?

Parent involvement has always been a centerpiece of Title I. However, for the first time in the history of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), parent involvement has a specific statutory definition. The statute defines parent involvement as the participation of parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication involving student academic learning and other school activities, including ensuring that:

- Parents play an integral role in assisting their child’s learning
- Parents are encouraged to be actively involved in their child’s education at school
- Parents are full partners in their child’s education and are included, as appropriate, in decision-making and on advisory committees to assist in the education of their child
- Other activities are carried out, such as those described in section 1118 of the ESEA (Parent Involvement)

A-2. What written parent involvement policies must Title I, Part A schools develop?

No Child Left Behind (NCLB) requires that each school must develop, jointly with parents of children participating in Title I, Part A services, a written school parent involvement policy that describes how the school will carry out the parent involvement requirements in section 1118(c) – (f), including the development of a school-parent compact. See Appendix A for a sample school parent involvement policy template. See Appendix C for Section 1118 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

A-3. What is a "school-parent" compact?

The school-parent compact is a component of the written parent involvement policy. A school-parent compact is a written agreement between the school and the parents of children participating in Title I, Part A programs that identifies the activities that the parents, the entire school staff, and the students will undertake to share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement. In addition, the school-parent compact outlines the activities that the parents, school staff, and students will undertake to build and develop a partnership to help the children achieve high academic standards. See Appendix A for a template of a school-parent compact included in the school parent involvement policy template.

A-4. How should a school describe the means for carrying out the requirements of the parent involvement policy?

The school policy should clearly describe what each activity will be, who will be doing each activity, when each activity will take place, how the activity will be carried out, and how success of each activity will be measured. The policy should be concise and parent-friendly. There is no required format for a district’s policy or for the descriptions of each item required to be contained in the policy. This information may be incorporated in the policy as narrative or through a chart like the one below.

<tr>
<th>Activity/Task (What will be done)</th>

</tr>
</thead>

A-5. Are schools required to use a particular template to develop their policy?

No, schools are not required to use any one particular template in creating their parent involvement policy. However, the school parent involvement policy must incorporate the information required by section 1118(b) to be compliant with Title I, Part A requirements. See Appendix B for a checklist of school parent involvement policy requirements which may be used to ensure school parent involvement policies contain all required components.

A-6. Can the school use an existing school parent involvement policy or district parent involvement policy?

If the school already has a parent involvement policy that applies to all parents, the school may amend that existing policy, if necessary, to meet the requirements of section 1118(b). It is important to remember that parents must be involved in the process of creating a school parent involvement policy, and parents must be a part of any decision to revise an existing policy.

A-7. Do school parent involvement policies need to be approved by the school board?

No, school parent involvement policies do not need to be approved by the school board. Local Education Agencies (LEA) should not allow the term “policy” to become a hindrance in adopting a school parent involvement policy. Schools may refer to the school parent involvement policy as a “plan” rather than a “policy.”

A-8. How often must school parent involvement policies be updated?

Schools must update these policies and school-parent compacts periodically to meet the changing needs of parents and the school. Schools should evaluate the content and effectiveness of the school’s parent involvement activities on an annual basis. The LEA must provide specific technical assistance that includes help with analyzing data from assessments and other examples of student work, identifying and addressing problems in instruction, and implementing the parent involvement requirements in section 1118 and the professional development requirements in section 1119.

The Florida Evaluation Working Group created a toolkit designed to assist schools and districts in conducting evaluations of parent involvement policies. The Parent Involvement Toolkit may be accessed at the following Web site: http://www.nclbeval.org.

Parent Involvement in Policy Development and Activities

B-1. What notification and dissemination requirements apply for school parent involvement policies?

Each school served under Title I, Part A must notify parents of its written parent involvement policy. This notification must be in an understandable and uniform format, including alternative formats upon request, and, to the extent practicable, provide the notice and the policy in a language the parents can understand. The entire parent involvement policy must be directly disseminated to parents by means such as mail, e-mail, or backpack. A school may wish to disseminate the policy through a school booklet, such as in the school code handbook. In addition to direct dissemination, the school may also wish to include the parent involvement policy on the school’s Web site. Each school also must make its written parent involvement policy available to the local community.
B-2. What meetings must schools hold to inform parents about Title I, Part A programs and parent involvement?

Each school served under Title I, Part A must convene an annual meeting to inform parents of their school’s participation in Title I, Part A programs, and to explain the Title I, Part A requirements and the right of parents to be involved in those programs. This meeting must be at a time convenient for parents. In order to keep parents informed, schools should invite all parents of children participating in Title I, Part A programs and encourage them to attend. Schools must offer a flexible number of additional parent involvement meetings, such as in the morning or evening so that as many parents as possible are able to attend.

B-3. How can LEAs and schools ensure that parents are involved in the development of the school’s parent involvement policy?

In developing school-level parent involvement policies, the school should contact parents and ask for their collaboration in developing or revising the school’s policy. Schools may wish to create a committee, task force, parent council, or parent involvement team. Many schools have a team like this already in place. The LEA should assist schools in reaching out to parents for their collaboration. The LEA is responsible for ensuring each Title I school has a parent involvement policy that was jointly developed with parents. LEAs may wish to annually collect these policies and meeting announcements, agendas, sign-in sheets, and minutes for the purpose of documentation. See Appendix B for a checklist of school parent involvement policy requirements to assist the LEA in ensuring school policies contain all required components.

B-4. How can schools and LEAs enhance parent involvement and participation in school meetings, conferences, and activities?

LEAs and school staff should be educated on the value of parent involvement and how to establish and support family involvement. Schools may receive training on best practices for parent involvement from Florida’s Parental Information and Resource Centers (PIRCs).

Additionally, schools may increase parent participation by paying reasonable and necessary expenses associated with local parent involvement activities, including transportation and childcare costs, to enable parents to participate in school-related meetings and training sessions. Schools and LEAs should arrange school meetings at a variety of times. For parents who are unable to attend conferences at school, schools may arrange for and conduct in-home conferences between teachers or other educators who work directly with participating children and the children’s parents. Schools also may provide training to parents in how to enhance the involvement of other parents.

B-5. What are Parental Information and Resource Centers?

Parental Information and Resource Centers (PIRC) were established by the United States Department of Education (US ED) in 1995 to provide parents, schools, and organizations with training, information, and technical assistance to understand how children develop and what they need to succeed in school. LEAs or Title I schools must inform parents and parent organizations of the existence and purpose of the state’s PIRCs.

Florida has two PIRCs. For more information regarding the PIRC of Family Network on Disabilities of Florida (FND) please visit their Web site at: www.fndfl.org/projects/pirc/index.asp.
For more information regarding the PIRC at University of South Florida (USF), please visit their Web site at: http://www.floridapirc.usf.edu.

A sample letter to inform parents of PIRCs as required by NCLB, Section 1118 may be found at: http://www.floridapirc.usf.edu/pdfs/NCLB_PIRC_Parent_Notify.pdf.

B-6. What additional resources are available to assist in the implementation of the parent involvement requirements under NCLB?

There are several resources available to assist LEAs and schools in implementing the parent involvement requirements of NCLB. The US ED has published non-regulatory guidance regarding Title I, Part A: Parent Involvement. The non-regulatory guidance may be accessed at the following Web site: http://www.ed.gov/programs/titleiparta/parentinvguid.doc.

Additionally, the Florida Department of Education has developed a Web site related to Title I Parent Involvement. There are a number of resources and templates available on this Web site, which may be located at: http://www.fldoe.org/flbps/76/pdf/pi.asp.

Appendix C. Section 1118 of Elementary and Secondary Education Act
SEC. 1118. PARENT INVOLVEMENT.

(a) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY POLICY-
   (1) IN GENERAL- A local educational agency may receive funds under this part only if such agency implements programs, activities, and procedures for the involvement of parents in programs assisted under this part consistent with this section. Such programs, activities, and procedures shall be planned and implemented with meaningful consultation with parents of participating children.
   (2) WRITTEN POLICY- Each local educational agency that receives funds under this part shall develop jointly with, agree on with, and distribute to, parents of participating children a written parent involvement policy. The policy shall be incorporated into the local educational agency's plan developed under section 1112, establish the agency's expectations for parent involvement, and describe how the agency will —
      (A) involve parents in the joint development of the plan under section 1112, and the process of school review and improvement under section 1116;
      (B) provide the coordination, technical assistance, and other support necessary to assist participating schools in planning and implementing effective parent involvement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance;
      (C) build the schools' and parents' capacity for strong parent involvement as described in subsection (e);
      (D) coordinate and integrate parent involvement strategies under this part with parent involvement strategies under other programs, such as the Head Start program, Reading First program, Early Reading First program, Even Start program, Parents as Teachers program, and Home Instruction Program for Preschool Youngsters, and State-run preschool programs;
      (E) conduct, with the involvement of parents, an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of the parental involvement policy in improving the academic quality of the schools served under this part, including identifying barriers to greater participation by parents in activities authorized by this section (with particular attention to parents who are economically disadvantaged, are disabled, have limited English proficiency, have limited literacy, or are of any racial or ethnic minority background), and use the findings of such evaluation to design strategies for more effective parent involvement, and to revise, if necessary, the parent involvement policies described in this section; and
      (F) involve parents in the activities of the schools served under this part.
   (3) RESERVATION-
      (A) IN GENERAL- Each local educational agency shall reserve not less than 1 percent of such agency's allocation under subpart 2 of this part to carry out this section, including promoting family literacy and parenting skills, except that this paragraph shall not apply if 1 percent of such agency's allocation under subpart 2 of this part for the fiscal year for which the determination is made is $5,000 or less.
      (B) PARENT INPUT- Parents of children receiving services under this part shall be involved in the decisions regarding how funds reserved under subparagraph (A) are allotted for parent involvement activities.
      (C) DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS- Not less than 95 percent of the funds reserved under subparagraph (A) shall be distributed to schools served under this part.

(b) SCHOOL PARENT INVOLVEMENT POLICY-
   (1) IN GENERAL- Each school served under this part shall jointly develop with, and distribute to, parents of participating children a written parent involvement policy, agreed on by such parents, that shall describe the means for carrying out the requirements of subsections (c) through (f). Parents shall be notified of the policy in an understandable and uniform format and, to the extent practicable, provided in a language the parents can understand. Such policy shall be made available to the local community and updated periodically to meet the changing needs of parents and the school.
(2) SPECIAL RULE- If the school has a parent involvement policy that applies to all parents, such school may amend that policy, if necessary, to meet the requirements of this subsection.
